Madam*

An extension lecture on the topic “Data Science” was organized by the PG department of Computer Sc. & Applications. The resource persons were Mr Sachin Sharma, Senior Manager, Accenture, UK Office along with Mr Govind Singh from Infosys, Pune. The training session was conducted to make the students understand about the role and goal of data science and what you need to do to get success in industry. Analyzing data to identify trends, correlations, anomalies and other useful information is the main purpose of data science initiatives. Overall, the analytics work done by data scientists is aimed at improving business performance and helping organizations gain a competitive advantage over business rivals. Prof (Dr.) Atima Sharma Dwivedi applauded the efforts of the department and advised to organise more such lectures to aware the students about the latest trends in the field of information technology.
